Jess Daines was honored as the March 2019 USU Employee of the Month, seen here with Allen Dawes who presented the award

Jess Daines, Landscape Manager with USU Facilities, was recognized as the March 2019 Employee of the Month. For all who enjoy a stroll around campus, especially near the David B. Haight Alumni Center or around the Quad, you've been blessed by his handiwork! You can catch him on the job, working hard right along with his young crew of students.

Jess came to USU with extensive experience in the private sector, and from the start he has been friendly, cheerful, and quick to jump in and make areas even better than they were before.

Lana Archibald nominated Jess for this honor and commented that "he has a dogged determination to work as long and as hard as is required to do a good job. He [is] truly... like the Energizer bunny!"

Thanks Jess for making USU such a great place to work! Congratulations on an honor well-deserved!
