Craig Kelley Named SEA 2017-18 Employee of the Year

Julie Duersch

06/06/2018

Allen Dawes presents Craig Kelley with his Employee of the Month Recognition

Craig Kelly, September 2017 Employee of the Month, was selected as the 2017-18 SEA Employee of the Year from a field filled with outstanding employees. He serves as the financial officer for the Office of Research and Graduate Studies. Because of his skill set and personality, he has become one of the colleagues who can be relied on and trusted.

Craig is liked and respected by all the members of the team. When he was asked to provide a professional development workshop during the summertime, he not only took the time to teach the workshop in a fun and engaging way but he studied some of the team’s datasets in advance to create examples and suggestions on work we were already doing. In short, Craig is always going the extra mile.

Congratulations Craig on this well-deserved honor and to all the 2017-18 Employee of the Month nominees: Shara Gibbons (June 2017), Adam Leestma (July 2017), Michael Bishop (August 2017), Bryan Arnell (October 2017), Tyler Clair (November 2017), Scott Jaggi (December 2017), Adam Eidson (January 2018), Shelbi Guillot (February 2018), Tiffany Allison (March 2018), Andrea DeHaan (April 2018), Wendy Rodesky (May 2018)