Kristi Swainston was awarded the honor of being named the Employee of the Month by the Staff Employee Association at USU for August 2018.

Barbara Williams, catalog editor in the office of Student Retention and Completion had these kind words to say about her colleague.

"Kristi works with data and reports in the Registrar’s office which is challenging at the best of times. She rises to every challenge, and regularly goes above and beyond expectations. Her work requires creative and innovative problem-solving as she designs reports to meet the needs of this office and others around campus.

Kristi is a real team player. She is often seen helping people from other offices in the division design or refine their own reports. She takes every opportunity to share what she has learned with others.

In addition to being an exemplary employee, she is friendly and gets along well with everyone she works with, including faculty, staff and even students. She’s positive and encouraging, and works hard to make sure that everyone feels included."

If you know someone whose hard work should be recognized, you can nominate them to be the next employee of the month. All nominations are considered by the SEA Employee Relations Committee for an entire calendar year. Learn more about other qualifications to be nominated as an employee of the month.
